

The hotel on Lake Constance, where the Churches' Peace Conference was held, 3-4 August 1914.

Centre for Baptist History and Heritage, Oxford with the Baptist Historical Society

*A German-British Conference
Commemorating the Founding in 1914 of the World Alliance for Promoting Friendship through the Churches*

Saturday 6 December 2014
at Regent's Park College,
Pusey Street, Oxford OX1 2LB

“ Movements for Peace in 1914 ”

Programme for the Day

10. 00 am Arrival and Welcome

10. 15 am 'An Alliance for International Friendship? Sentiment, Reality, Hope' by Keith W. Clements (Former General Secretary of the Council of European Churches).

11.30 am Break for tea or coffee (provided)

12.00 am 'The Relation between the International Fellowship of Reconciliation and the Early Civil Rights Movement' by Andrea Strübind (Professor of Church History and Dean of Faculty, Institut für Evangelische Theologie, Carl von Ossietzky Universität Oldenburg)

1.15 pm Break for lunch (bring your own sandwiches—drinks provided)

2.00 pm 'Friedrich Siegmund-Schultze, a Founder of the Peace Movement' by Erich Geldbach (Emeritus Professor of Ecumenical Theology, Evangelisch-Theologischen Fakultät, University of Bochum and Honorary Professor, University of Marburg)

3.15 pm Break for tea or coffee

3.40pm Shorter papers, including

'Herbert Patrick. Pioneer for peace in England and Germany', by Frank Fornaçon (German Baptist minister, Editor of Criscare, Magazine for Christians in Health Professions)

'Baptist Connections in the early years of the Fellowship of Reconciliation' by Ian Randall (formerly Professor of Church History, International Baptist Theological Seminary, Prague)

4.30 pm Close

There will be a small exhibition of materials from the Angus Library related to Nonconformists and the First World War.

Conference attendance costs £10, payable on the day. Please register by emailing paul.fiddes@regents.ox.ac.uk to secure your place.