

IWM Q 81620, 1st Battalion, 4th Gurkha Rifles, France 1915

GLOBALISING & LOCALISING THE GREAT WAR
Seminar Series
Michaelmas 2017

*All events take place in the History Faculty, Thursdays
4pm, except where specified.
All welcome!*

Week 1 (12 Oct) – Professor John Horne (Trinity College Dublin & University of Oxford)

How many beginnings? Entering the Great War, 1914-1917 – This paper is presented as part of Professor Horne's Leverhulme Visiting Professorship at the University of Oxford

Week 2 (19 Oct) – Dr. David Monger (University of Canterbury, New Zealand)

Know your enemy: British perspectives of German First World War propaganda

Sat 21 October, 10.30-19.30 – Workshop – Constance Coltman: Pioneer of Women in Christian Ministry.

Mansfield and Somerville Colleges, Oxford. Registration required

(<http://greatwar.history.ox.ac.uk/?p=2910>).

Week 3 (26 Oct) – Dr. David Monger (University of Canterbury, New Zealand)

We cannot keep silent': the international humanitarian network behind the British Parliamentary Report on the Armenian Genocide

Week 4 (2 Nov) – Dr. Emily Robertson (Australian Defence Force Academy, UNSW)

Merciless Humanitarians: Atrocity propaganda, liberalism & the FWW in Britain & Australia

Week 5 (9 Nov) – Dr. Emma Login (Historic England)

The First World War and the Avengers of 1870: Memorialising a global conflict in eastern France

Wed 15 November, from 17.15 – joint session with the History of War seminar series, Professor John Horne (Trinity College Dublin & University of Oxford), Empires and Occupations: The Global Dynamics of the Illiberal Wartime State during the First World War – This paper is presented as part of Professor Horne's Leverhulme Visiting Professorship. Wharton Room, All Souls College

Week 6 (16 Nov) – Dr. Layla Renshaw (Kingston University)

Relating to the Dead: Mass Grave Excavations, DNA and the Construction of Memory at Fromelles

Week 7 (23 Nov) – Dr. Matthew Leonard (University of Bristol & Cirencester College)

Conflicting Memories: From Remembrance Poppy to Worker Bee

Tues 28 November, 16.00-17.30 – Professor John Horne (Trinity College Dublin & University of Oxford), War as Revolution, 1914-1923, valedictory lecture as finale of Professor Horne's Leverhulme Visiting Professorship. Lecture Theatre, History Faculty, followed by drinks reception from 17.30-19.00, Common Room, History Faculty

Week 8 (30 Nov-1 Dec) – Closed Workshop – Anglo/Belgian Research Exchange, Pembroke College

Non-Oxford attendees are very welcome to our seminars; we request they please RSVP to convenors
Dr. Jeanette Atkinson & Hanna Smyth, glgwevents@history.ox.ac.uk