

Conscription and its Malcontents in the First World War
 St Peter's College, Oxford
 17 November 2017

TIME	SPEAKER	TITLE
IRELAND
9:30-10:00	Richard Parfitt Linacre College, Oxford	Conscription, military music, and the battle for legitimacy in Britain and Ireland
10:00-10:30	Robin Adams St Peter's College, Oxford	Who prevented conscription in Ireland? A demographic portrait of the Anti-Conscription Pledge
10:30-11:00	Dr Conor Morrissey Hertford College, Oxford	Protestant nationalists and the conscription crisis
11:00-11:30	COFFEE
AMERICAS
11:30-12:00	Michael Joseph Pembroke College, Oxford	The Conscription Controversy of 1917 and Constitutional Reform in the British West Indies
12:00-12:30	Dr Graeme Thompson St Anthony's College, Oxford	'A Disastrous Cleavage': Conscription and its Malcontents in the Dominion of Canada, 1917-18
12:30-13:00	Dr Joseph Quinn University College Dublin	"Too proud to fight?": The anti-war movement in the US during the First World War and the suppression of minority resistance to conscription in 1917-18
13:00-14:00	LUNCH (St Peters College)
EMPIRE
14:00-14:30	Dr E.J. Yorke Royal Military Academy, Sandhurst	Conscription for a "white man's war": African responses and resistance in Northern Rhodesia 1914-18
14:30-15:00	Greg Hynes Pembroke College, Oxford	Māori and Conscription in New Zealand: Reactions, Utilisation, and Multiple Loyalties
15:00-15:30	Otman Bychou Université Sultan Moulay Slimane	War, Propaganda and Ideology: How the French Confronted the German Conscription of Moroccans in the Great War
15:30-16:00	COFFEE
GENDER
16:00-16:30	Charlotte Bennett Wolfson College, Oxford	"[W]e must be prepared to fight to the last of our resources": Schoolboys and Conscription in First World War New Zealand
16:30-17:00	Maurice Casey Jesus College, Oxford	Sylvia Pankhurst's Anti-War Activism in Transnational Perspective
17:00-17:30	Carol Henderson Wolverhampton University	Unmanly Shirkers? Masculinity in appeals against military conscription in Britain, 1916-1918.
17:30-19:00	DINNER – Outside venue
EVENING SESSION
19:00-19:30	Dr Richard Allen St Peter's College, Oxford	Duty called, and called me to obey?: The Chavasse Family and Conscription
19:30-20:15	Roundtable Discussion	Featuring: Prof Senia Pašeta, St Hugh's College, Oxford Prof Adrian Gregory, Pembroke College, Oxford Dr Jakub Beneš, University of Birmingham Dr Alexander Morrison, New College, Oxford

Registration required: conscription@history.ox.ac.uk